About the Presenters

Angela Mann, M.A., is an Educational Coordinator at the UF Jacksonville Center for Autism and Related Disabilities. She has experience working as a teacher for a classroom of 3rd to 5th grade children with varying exceptionalities.

Donna Foster, a twenty year veteran of the classroom, has focused her career furthering the inclusion of exceptional education students into general education classrooms.

Erin Swenson is a teacher for a self-contained autism classroom in Clay County public schools. She holds a Bachelor's degree in Psychology from the University of Central Florida.

Training Description

In the morning, Angela Mann will discuss planning for inclusion for students in self-contained ASD classrooms and students who are included in general education classrooms, including addressing social skills deficits.

In the afternoon, Donna Foster will address challenges teachers may experience when students with special needs join their classroom. Participants will learn about the initial design and implementation of an inclusive classroom, and will gain knowledge of students' successful classroom participation.
